Polymer Synthesis Laboratory
Division of Physical Sciences & Engineering

Research Interests

The research of Prof. Hadjichristidis focuses mainly on the synthesis of novel homopolymers, copolymers and hybrids (polymers/polypeptides, polymers/CNT) with well-defined complex macromolecular architectures (star, comb, cyclic, dendritic, etc) by using anionic polymerization (AP) high vacuum techniques, as well as combinations of AP with other polymerization methodologies (AP, ATRP, TEMPO, catalytic, etc). These polymers are ideal models for checking the theory, understanding and improving the performance of industrial polymers (e.g. polyethylene, polystyrene based thermoplastic elastomers) and are potential candidates for high-tech applications (e.g. nanolithography, drug delivery, high temperature membranes).

Prof Hadjichristidis has published more than 450 scientific papers in referred scientific journals (citations until November 14th 2013: 14921, h-index: 62, Web of Science), 16 patents, is the editor of four books and author of one book on Block Copolymers (Wiley 2003)
